

Plans to transform Health Visiting Services – Derbyshire County Council have launched a consultation on proposals to change the way they offer support to families with pre-school children.

This is the second phase of a review looking at how services could be delivered more effectively to ensure they remain sustainable and finite resources are targeted at families who need the most support.

They are encouraging people to fill in their online questionnaire available here. You can also find information about other ways to have your say, e.g. drop-in events at libraries and virtual meetings at the same link.

The consultation runs until September 29.
